

THEY CELEBRATED.

The Knights Templar Appropriately Observe the Day.

YESTERDAY WAS ASCENSION DAY.

Hope Commandery, of St. Clairsville, Unites With Cyrene and Wheeling, of This City, in Commemorating the Anniversary—An Address by Chaplain R. R. Swope, D. D., and a Banquet.

Yesterday was Ascension Day, and the Knights Templar of Wheeling, in common with their brother knights all over the world, had a fitting celebration of the day. Wheeling and Cyrene commanderies, of this city, had as their guests on this occasion the members of Hope commandery of St. Clairsville, which organization includes also members from other towns of Belmont county.

The St. Clairsville knights came to Bridgeport on the Cleveland, Lorain & Wheeling train and were there met by the brethren from Bellaire, who had come up on the electric cars. They crossed to the city, and were met at Bridge Place by an escort of knights of this city, headed by the Opera House band. The escort marched up Market street and to the place of meeting, and after the visiting knights fell in the procession moved down Main street to Fourteenth and on Fourteenth to Market.

Here the main body of the two Wheeling commanderies was drawn up in line to receive the visitors. The three commanderies then formed one line.

They made a very striking and beautiful display with their neat black uniforms, chapeaus and flowing white plumes, and elicited many expressions of admiration from the large crowds of lookers-on who had gathered about the place. They marched to St. Matthew's church, where seats were reserved for them.

Here Rev. Dr. R. R. Swope, himself an officer in the order, delivered an appropriate address. Incidental to this Prof. J. A. Raynes, leader of the vested choir, had prepared the following special programme, which added much to the beauty and solemnity of the service:

Processional Hymn—We March to Victory.
Magnificat—Terror Torer
Nunc Dimittis—Old Chant.
Antiphon—God So Loved the World.
Hymn—Alleluia, Sing to Jesus.
Offertory Solo—Jesus is Gone Up on High.
Mrs. Flora Williams.
Recessional Hymn—Crown with Many Crowns.

The lessons of Ascension day, said Dr. Swope, are familiar to all Knights Templar. One lesson of Christ's ascension to heaven is the bounteous gifts to man he left behind. He then referred to the change in character in the disciples caused by their association on earth with Christ, and which coming down through the centuries has had a far reaching effect, and made Christianity the religion of the world. Christ gave the disciples new ideas of men, and dispelled the idea that the Jews only would be saved and the Gentiles lost; He taught that all men are to be saved through Him; that all men are brothers.

These disciples accomplished a great work by their self denial and zeal; Christ in them remained on earth, and through their efforts the religion of Christ spread everywhere. The knights, he said, should all be men of Christian character, and as modern disciples should extend Christ's religion. Where evil exists it should be the duty, it is the duty, of knights to eradicate it.

The speaker knew of no church that uses the degree of discipline on its members that the Templar order does. The members of the order are called upon to show the zeal of the apostles of old. This can be done by zeal and ambition, but it is not necessary to endure the same abnegation of body and soul. God gave man qualities which it was intended he should exercise. Regarding the work that should be done by knights, he called attention to one of the questions of the day; how to stop the growing evil of too great an urban population. The life of a true Christian and knights should be one into which worship enters. He could not conceive how many exist without bending the knee in prayer and only hearing the word of God used in jest.

There were a number of others besides the knights in the audience, and the speaker held the attention of all throughout his able discourse. After the services the one hundred and thirty knights again formed in line, and headed by the band, marched to the Masonic Temple, where in the asylum of the Wheeling Commanderies a very tempting feast was spread by Caterer Ziegenfelder and an hour or two spent in social enjoyment.

Sir Alfred Panl was the toast master, and he presided very gracefully, while Sir Knights Ahrens and Shafer divided the responsibilities of master of ceremonies.

When all had done justice to the viands Sir Hugh Sterling in a neat and earnest address welcomed the visiting knights, and expressed the pleasure of all the Wheeling members of the order in having them present on the occasion of so significant a celebration. His remarks were received by all with hearty approval.

Sir W. C. Bergundthal, of Bellaire, responded in equally cordial terms on behalf of the Sir Knights of Hope Commandery, all of whom will long remember with pleasure the celebration of Ascension Day by their brethren of this city.

Sir J. B. Ryan, of St. Clairsville, also expressed for himself and his fellow knights their pleasure at participating in so beautiful and impressive an observance of the anniversary, and Sir Knight Burdett also spoke briefly, but eloquently, in the same strain. All the addresses were received with enthusiasm.

Sir John Kiheladoff spoke on the beauties and ennobling character of the order, and Sir Knight Jenkins sang his own revised version of the song, "Moses and Aaron," which was highly enjoyed by all, and especially by the many Shriners who were present. There was also music by a mandolin, banjo and guitar club, and all in all the time passed delightfully until the visitors had to depart to take a special train at Bridgeport for home. The Bellaire Knights returned on special electric cars.

The event was voted by all one of the pleasantest and most profitable ever enjoyed by the Wheeling Knights Templar.

LAKE ERIE OFFICIALS.

A Party of Them Here Last Night—An Inspection Tour.

Last evening a party of prominent Wheeling & Lake Erie railroad officials arrived in the city on their special car and remained over night before returning to Toledo. Those in the party were: General Manager A. G. Blair, General Superintendent C. A. Wilson, Auditor Downer, Adams, General Coal Traffic Agent W. H. Vance and Coal Manager Joseph Summers, together with A. G. Blair, Jr., and Edward McCutcheon. The officials had been out from Toledo for two days inspecting their line and more particularly looking over the coal traffic situation.

General Manager Blair told an Intelligence man that with the exception of the drop in coal traffic caused by the strike of the Ohio miners, business on the Wheeling & Lake Erie has shown a wonderful improvement in the past few months. The shipment of the product of the manufacturing at this end of the road has shown a most gratifying increase. Passenger business, too, is improving, and as soon as the coal strike is settled the road will be doing a very fine business.

Mr. Blair said that the strike would not be ended until there is a settlement in Pennsylvania, and that the Ohio miners would return to work on a basis of the settlement in Pennsylvania. The official was asked regarding the probable purchase of the Valley road by the Wheeling & Lake Erie, which would give the line an entrance into Cleveland, long desired, and said that nothing could be done until Judge Hicks, of the United States court, hands down his decision regarding the interests of the bondholders. As to a possible extension of the Wheeling & Lake Erie into the Connellsville coke region via Wheeling, Mr. Blair smiled, and said that such a project, although it has been considered by the Wheeling & Lake Erie, is yet a mere possibility of the distant future.

Mr. Summers, of the party, has just been made general manager of the extensive coal properties of the Wheeling & Lake Erie in Jefferson county, Ohio, a new office by the way. Hereafter the management of the affairs of the various coal companies owned by the Wheeling & Lake Erie, located at Laurelton, Dillonvale and other points in Jefferson county, has devolved upon General Manager Blair, of the railroad company, but the work has assumed such proportions that Mr. Blair has had to retire. Mr. Summers, who is a veteran man in the coal business, has been spending the past week in Jefferson county getting acquainted with the situation. His headquarters, however, will be in Cleveland.

DURST THE CATERER.

The record George L. Durst, the leading caterer of this city, has made in the last five years, during which time he has furnished and superintended the refreshments for the annual reception given by President Moffat, of Washington-Jefferson college, certainly speaks highly for the estimate of his refreshments that has been formed by the president, the college boys and the people in general at Washington, Pa. Mr. Durst was selected again this year as the caterer for this important social event, without solicitation on his part. The fact is that after he has once served a discriminating entertainer, he will always be glad to secure his services again. Among the best circles his presence is indispensable at all social functions of a high order, and to secure him as caterer is to assure in a large measure the success of any such affair.

Mr. Durst has built up a reputation which brings to him all the best patrons in this whole section of the country, and every new patron increases his reputation. He is without a local rival in his line.
